CPC Learning Network: Past and Present

Lindsay Stark
Director, CPC Learning Network
June 2, 2015
Care and Protection of Children (CPC) Learning Network founded
Program Learning Groups (PLGs) launched in Uganda, Liberia, Indonesia, Sri Lanka
Global Technical Groups launched

Centre for Excellence for the Study of the African Child launched at University of Makerere, Uganda
Burkina Faso and Colombia PLGs launched
CPC Bi-annual meeting/development of new strategic plan

Center of Child Protection (PUSKAPA) established at University of Indonesia
Stockholm Summit
Learning Into Action Conference, Geneva
Uganda National Curriculum Developed

Program Learning Groups (PLGs)
- Indonesia
- Liberia
- Sri Lanka
- Uganda

Global Technical Groups (GTGs)
- Assessment and Systems
- Livelihoods
- Measurement and Evaluation
- Psychosocial Wellbeing

CPC Learning Network Secretariat, New York
2008 - 2011

Graduate Concentration

Our New Concentration: Child Protection In University of Indonesia

The Center on Child Protection is developing a concentration program for masters students that is designed to respond to both global standards and national needs. Typical components include: child protection systems, juvenile justice, disaster preparedness and risk reduction, emergency response, child advocacy, and exposure to innovative quantitative and qualitative methodologies for assessing and measuring child protection concerns.

If you are interested in this program, please return to this website regularly for updates, download our brochure or Contact Us with your question at:

Agast, at agast@puskapa.org - Technical Lead for Social Protection

---

SPEAK - 13th Edition

Dear Colleagues,

We are proud to present the newest volume of our newsletter, SPEAK (Seksiyen Penyelidikan Anak). We hope this brief review can help to bring small, positive changes to child protection practice. Thank you for your interest.

Cheers,

Editor in Chief

---

Measuring the Impact of Post-Tsunami Livelihoods Programming on Child Well-being in Aceh, in collaboration with Columbia University and Save the Children.

Dian and Dian, victims of the tsunami in Aceh, Indonesia. Both are the siblings of a young child who was killed in the disaster. They were among the lucky ones - they survived. But their lives have been forever changed.

Dian and Dian, victims of the tsunami in Aceh, Indonesia. Both are the siblings of a young child who was killed in the disaster. They were among the lucky ones - they survived. But their lives have been forever changed.

---

Freedom of Expression Network: The role of the media in promoting freedom of expression in South East Asia.
The Global Classroom

- A three-country global classroom linked students, faculty and practitioners in a unique mutual learning experience.
- 31 students from a variety of government, civil society, UN and academic institutions enrolled in the course at the University of Indonesia;
- A further 15 students participated from Sri Lanka; and
- 28 graduate students from the Columbia University in the US.
Africa’s research center on children opens in Kampala

Minister of gender labor and social development, Mary Aaroos, University on Wednesday, Oct.15, 2014. The centre works to improve child protection practice and inform policy through scientific Research.

The Social Service Workforce and the Practice of Working with Vulnerable Children and Families

February 18, 2014
9:00 AM – 3:00 PM
Marine School of Public Health at Columbia University

The State of Evidence on Children’s Care

September 18, 2014
9:00 AM – 5:00 PM
New York University’s Silver School of Social Work 41 E. 11th Street, 7th Floor, Room 712

2012 - 2015
Consensus Methods: Delphi
PARTICIPATIVE RANKING METHODOLOGY: A BRIEF GUIDE

Consensus Methods: PRM
Enumeration

Measuring violence against women amidst war and displacement in northern Uganda using the “neighborhood method”
L Stein, T Tabu, R Deldon, K Roberts, A Asem, R Sediba, L Roberts

Measuring human rights violations in a conflict-affected country: results from a nationwide cluster survey in Central African Republic
Wess Tewa, Benamin Mbo, Menandare Sama

Rethinking Gender-Based Violence

The concept of gender-based violence is particularly challenging in peace contexts. It is common for women and girls to experience gender-based violence in displacement settings, and this can further exacerbate their vulnerabilities. This article discusses the challenges of measuring gender-based violence in displacement settings and suggests ways forward.

Background
Measuring human rights violations in conflict-affected countries is a complex undertaking. This article presents the results of a nationwide cluster survey in Central African Republic, which found elevated levels of violence against women and girls. The findings highlight the need for continued monitoring and intervention.

Policy Change Brief
CPC Learning Network

Measuring Separation in Emergencies

Refugee...
Measuring Systems
Thank You